A SENTIMENTAL JOURNEY BEGUN

Roosevelts Retracing Honeymoon Rout.

TO GO OVER ROMANTIC SCENES

Beginning at Spezia Today, Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt Are to Retrace the Route Taken Through Italy on Their Wedding Tour—They Are to Be Unaccompanied, Having Expressed a Desire to Be Relieved for a Period of Their Recent Retinue of Reporters.

Rome, April 7.—Colonel Roosevelt's visit to Rome has ended. He left the city last night after three busy days. His stay awakened a strange mixture of enthusiasm and bitterness and will be long remembered. The soreness of the vatican and Catholics against him is very acute, but he seems more concerned for the moment with the irritating attitude of the Methodists than in seeking to emphasize his friction with the holy see.

Mr. Roosevelt's last day was a busy one. Sightseeing, receptions and feasting filled in every hour. The mayor's dinner and reception were tedious affairs to many of the guests, who had to assemble in evening dress at 5:30 for tea, after which there was no escape until midnight. There was no lack of enthusiasm at the dinner, but it was so slowly served that Mayor Nathan lost his temper and in the presence of the guests abused the caterer.

Mr. Roosevelt was obliged to leave before it was over in order to get the train for Spezia, for which place he started at 11:45 with his wife. They will begin from that place a sentimental journey by road to Genoa, following the route of their honeymoon trip nearly twenty-five years ago. The distance, sixty-five miles, will be covered in carriages, as it was on the first occasion. It is likely to take three days.

Colonel Roosevelt intends to drop out of public view as completely as possible until he and his wife arrive in Genoa. In furtherance of this plan he asked the newspaper correspondents who have been with him up to the present time to leave the party temporarily, not rejoining him until he reaches Genoa. There is a sentiment in the ex-president's desire for privacy, as he and Mrs. Roosevelt wish to retrace their honeymoon trip along the shores of the Mediterranean. So strong is their desire for isolation that even Kermit and Ethel will be with them little between their departure and arrival at Genoa.

DOUBLE MURDER

Charge on Which an Ohio Man Was Taken in Chicago.

Chicago, April 7.—Peter C. Willman, twenty-eight years old, of Massillon, O., was arrested here last evening for the murder of his father-in-law and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Koontz of Canton, O. Willman was apprehended by detectives on telegraphic advices from the Ohio city. He was taken to central station and locked up. In a suitcase which he carried was found a revolver of large caliber with bloodstains on it. It also had the appearance of having been recently discharged. An old coat and a pair of trousers also had bloodstains on them.

Willman was taken before Captain Wood and questioned closely. He steadfastly refused to answer any questions and claimed to be under some hypnotic influence. The examination had not proceeded far until it was plainly seen that he was not of sound mind. He will be held to await the arrival of officers from the Ohio town.

MAY GO ON STRIKE

Lackawanna Trainmen Order a Poll on the Question.

Scranton, Pa., April 7.—The Lackawanna railroad's answer to the demands of the conductors and trainmen for a graded scale of wages was a refusal, the company making a compromise of 6 per cent increase. This the officers of the trainmen's organizations refused, and at once sent out orders for a strike poll all over the system.

To Fortify the Canal.

Washington, April 7.—The members of the Panama fortification board, which visited the Panama canal recently, will submit their report to Secretary of War Dickinson within the next few weeks. The work of fortifying the canal will cost about $10,000,000.

Took Personal Vengeance.

New York, April 7.—John Plant, captain of a tugboat, was shot and killed on the deck of his own tug by Alvin O. Collins, captain of a coal barge which was in tow of Plant's boat. Collins had heard that Plant had attacked his wife.

Two women were ejected from the Prince of Wales theater in London because they refused to remove their hats.

TEDDY LEAVES ROME

The Colonel and the Pope Not Likely Now to Meet.

JUDGE PLACED IN A DELICATE POSITION

Declined to Hear Confession of Old Friend.

Pittsburg, April 7.—Frank N. Hoffstot, millionaire president of the German National bank of Allegheny and president of the Pressed Steel Car company, has been indicted on charges of bribery and conspiracy. President Emil Winter of the Workmen's Savings Bank and Trust company of Allegheny went into court and confessed that he had bribed councilmen to the extent of $20,000. James M. Anderson, general bookkeeper of the Workmen's Savings Bank and Trust company, was arraigned on a charge of having mutilated the books of his bank to save exposure of certain persons. He was placed under bail.

The arraignment of Winter provoked a pathetic incident. Judge Fraser and Winter have been friends since boyhood, and as the banker confessed to bribery, Judge Fraser's voice broke and, motioning Judge Rogers to come closer, the jurist explained that he and the man about to plead were friends of too long standing to permit of his hearing the confession without pain. He would rather President Winter make his statement in some other court. Winter was then taken before Judges Carnahan and Swearingen, where he confessed that he had given Councilman Morris Einstein $20,000 in order that his bank might be made a city depository. He was placed under $2,500 bail.

OUTWITTED OFFICER

Physician Charged With Malpractice Preferred Death to Arrest.

New London, Conn., April 7.—Last Sunday Carrie Lieberman, a ticket seller at the Orpheum theater, died at the Memorial hospital. An autopsy disclosed malpractice and the antemortem statement of the girl implicated Harry Chippendale and Dr. Samuel Ladd of Moosup. Chippendale was arrested yesterday and Dr. Ladd killed himself when a deputy sheriff went to get him. Dr. Ladd was about sixty years old. He leaves a widow and son.

Hinsdale's Sage and His Gifts

HERE are several thousand people in this country who are looking forward to April 14 next with a good deal of pleasurable anticipation, not to say anxiety. Some of them are planning the make of automobile or the diamond tiara they will purchase shortly after that date, while others are mapping out extended trips abroad and the erection of Fifth avenue mansions. For it is on April 14 that a native of Illinois is going to give away several million dollars, the recent announcement of which has deluged him with thousands of begging letters and raised the hopes of many of the writers sky high. Dr. Daniel K. Pearsons is his name, and he is one of the most remarkable philanthropists this country has ever known. Not satisfied with having given away over $6,000,000, he will, on his nineteenth birthday, April 14, go on a new "rampage of giving" and this time will part with what remains of his immense fortune, as he wishes to die comparatively penniless. It is to colleges, not individuals, however, that his money will go.

Dr. Pearsons hails from Hinsdale, Ill., where they call him "the sage of Hinsdale." To use his own expression, he was once "as poor as Job's turkey." In the last twenty years he has done nothing except give away money, traveling across the United States from land's end to land's end and from the gulf to Canada in search of places in which to plant it where it would grow forever for somebody else's benefit. Forty-seven colleges in twenty-four states are already reaping the fruits. The number is now to be increased.

Then Dr. Pearsons, whose munificence is spread around the earth from his beloved native mountains of Vermont to Turkey, by way of the Pacific and China, will retire to his Hinsdale homestead, where he will remain until he joins the departed helmsman who first inspired him to make money and later to give it all away.

Dr. Pearsons was born in Bradford, Vt., in 1820. He went barefoot and sometimes hungry, but finally earned enough by the hardest kind of work to leave the farm and enter Bradford academy, and then he passed by hard toll to Dartmouth college. Here he was able to stay only one year. He could not meet the expense. But he had pluck and grit, and today this is one of his favorite stanzas:

Grit makes the man.
The want of it the chump;
The men who win
Lay hold, hang on and nupt!

Dr. Pearsons finally succeeded in getting into Hanover, where he studied medicine and was graduated from the medical school at Woodstock, in Vermont. So impressed was Dr. Alonzo Clark, one of the professors there, by the young man's efforts to get along that he loaned him $100 to continue his studies and get his degree. The young medic went over to Chicopee, Mass., where he hung out his shingle and began to practice, and it was there that he met and wooed Miss Marietta Chapin, who became his wife. Although he made good in Chicopee, it was his wife who spurred him on to larger fields, and it was her discerning eye that saw the successful business man in her husband rather than the country practitioner. The pair went west and settled near Chicago.

At that time land was the great investment, and Pearsons got into business and made his first venture selling farms. His inducements and sales brought droves of settlers to the western regions. The Illinois Central railway engaged him to sell its lands bordering on its right of way. This strip on either side spread back about fourteen miles. Pearsons made big money. It is said that he made a million in fifteen years, and he went in for timber lands.

It was about 1860 that Pearsons and his wife settled in the neighborhood of Chicago. He retired in 1889 and then, in company of his wife, began to distribute as cleverly and as sagely as he had accumulated. His first endowment went to Beloit college, which has received from him altogether $491,000, and there today as monuments to him and his wife stand Pearsons Scientific hall and Chapin hall.

Reviving With Distinguished Husband Memories of Honeymoon.

REIGN OF FILLETS.

Fashions of Greece For the Easter Girl.

Greek and Roman fashions reappear in the hair ornaments of today, but with a difference. Hairdressers hold that few American faces can stand the severity of purely classic adornments. A woman may be ever so charming, but unless she has Juno's perfect features she had better not assume Juno's fillet. Fillets and wreaths, though, American women will have, and some go so far as to crown their pompadours with two and even three bands. But they are bands such as the maids of Athens never had—fillets with attachments of spangled, sequined and jeweled wings and cabochons. Then there are wreaths of grape leaves, with the fabric made of a lustrous tinsel fabric, exquisitely light, with a sort of moonlight on the frost effect. Hairdressers aver that if the women of old Greece and Rome, with their several fillets, could see these wreaths they would be green with envy, and as they aren't here to deny the statement it will have to be accepted.

Debutantes with loads of fluffy hair can venture on wearing the simpler fillets of gold or silver, jewels, rhinestones or sequins made without adornments of feathers or bows. A beautiful fillet is of pearls—simple bands confined at either side with cabochons of the same gems—but only a very lovely woman can wear this—ought to wear it, at least. The debutante nowadays is given to lovevels, careful little ringlets and floating wisps of hair, which are charming when they are artistically done.

For the younger girl, who is not supposed to require many embellishments, are ribbon bowknots and loops and twists of silk to stick in her fluffy hair. Only for her older sisters are the gold and silver poinsettias, the winged insects, the clusters of golden fruit and the filmy birds. One favorite ornament for older girls is a tuft of frosted silver wheat mixed with the misty feathers of an egret and caught to the hair with a silver white butterfly.

The beauty of these ornaments depends much on the quality of the tinsel. "There's an awful difference in tinsel," remarked one dealer in hair ornaments as she laid out two specimens, one most exquisite, the other gaudy and inartistic just because of the cheap tinsel used in making it.

Two kinds of gold are fashionable in making up hair ornaments. One sort is termed pale gold and the other old gold. Neither has the decided yellow to be found in French side combs and mountings for broad and narrow rhinestone bandeaus.

EASTER GUESSING GAME.

An Egg-stravaganza Creates Fun For Evening Party.

Question and answer games are so easy to prepare for and such good fun that a pleasant little evening can be built up from one at a few minutes' notice.

For such a game to be played during the Easter season try the new and lively one called an "Easter extravaganza."

The fun of the evening consists in guessing words beginning with ex, a syllable which for the time being is pronounced like eggs. For example:

What eggs are necessary in answering these questions? Eggs-actitude.

What eggs are always overdone? Eggs-aggravation.

What eggs are high up? Eggs-alted.

What eggs investigate? Eggs-amination.

What eggs are models? Eggs-ample.

What eggs are irritated? Eggs-asperated.

What eggs are fond of digging? Eggs-cavation.

What eggs surpass all others? Eggs-cel.

What eggs are very great? Eggs-ceedingly.

What eggs have a title? Eggs-celency.

What eggs are not included? Eggs-cept.

What eggs are unusual? Eggs-ceptional.

What eggs are too many? Eggs-cess.

What eggs are bartered? Eggs-change.

What eggs are unquiet? Eggs-citable.

What eggs cry out? Eggs-claim.

What eggs debar? Eggs-clude.

What eggs may be cleared? Eggs-culpable.

What eggs are detestable? Eggs-ecrable.

What eggs make allowances? Eggs-cuse.

What eggs render dire justice? Eggs-ecutioners.

What eggs carry out orders? Eggs-ecute.

What eggs should be imitated? Eggs-emultry.

What eggs are solemn? Eggs-equies.

What eggs are athletic? Eggs-ercise.

What eggs use effort? Eggs-ertions.

What eggs emit? Eggs-hale.

What eggs drain out? Eggs-haust.

What eggs display? Eggs-hibit.

What eggs brace up? Eggs-hilaration.

What eggs advise? Eggs-hort.

What eggs press? Eggs-igency.

What eggs go out? Eggs-ist.

What eggs dig up? Eggs-hume.

What eggs live? Eggs-ist.

What eggs are too much? Eggs-orbitant.

What eggs drive out devils? Eggs-orcism.

What eggs are wide? Eggs-pand.

What eggs banish? Eggs-ile.

What eggs look for? Eggs-pect.

What eggs hasten? Eggs-pedite.

What eggs travel? Eggs-pedition.

If the company is a large one each question card can be used by two persons, one gentleman and one lady becoming partners for the evening.

This will reduce the work of copying one-half.

The two persons whose card when filled is pronounced most correct by the hostess and her corps of aids carry off the prize, or, rather, the two prizes.

An hour is a good time limit for the game, all players beginning and ceasing work at the same moment.

Crystal and silver articles in egg forms are just the ones for prizes for such an occasion.

FOLDING STAIRS.

They Can Be Let Down Between Floors or Drawn Up at Will.

An ingenious invention that is a great space saver is the folding stair. This stair works on the lazy tongs principle and can be drawn up or extended at will. All that is needed for this device is a small opening in the floor, large enough to admit a person comfortably. The stair is then fastened to a post at one end and a pair of spring doors fastened under it to open downward. The opening can be guarded by railings if so desired. The apparatus is controlled by a gearing, and when not in use the stair rests in closed position against the top of the post, while the spring doors are closed beneath it, and any person passing below would not know there was a stair there. By turning the crank that operates the gear, however, the stair is extended, pushes its way through the spring doors and comes down to the floor below, where it rests on rollers. With the hand rail for a support one may then ascend it in safety. The device is rather hard on book agents and bill collectors.

Garage Opened.

The new garage on S. Chestnut street was opened for business Wednesday. A carload of new machines has just been received and another carload is expected in about a week or ten days. The company will handle the "E. M. F." and the "Ford" automobiles and other standard machines besides keeping the auto storage room and doing almost every kind of automobile repair work. Rudolph Buhner the manager of the concern, has been a machinist in this city for several years and understands the machinery of an automobile. His business and his location will be a convenience for Seymour people owning automobiles as well as for the tourists who pass through Seymour every year enroute from Indianapolis, Chicago, Cincinnati and other northern and eastern points to West Baden and French Lick Springs, Louisville and other places. The hotel accommodations here are such as to please tourists and Seymour is made the stopping place between the Springs and Indianapolis, or Louisville and Indianapolis. Many automobile parties arrange to stop in this city over night and a still greater number stop here for their mid-day lunch. The number of good machines in this city is increasing very rapidly and this fact makes a well-managed garage an increasing necessity.

How Wise Woman Keeps Maids.

She doesn't nag.
System is her strong point.
She has regular duties and sticks to them.

She knows her own mind and does not distract with changing orders.

She never loses her temper or permits it to be lost by her subordinates.

She expects to be obeyed in her own home, but does not give impossible commands.

She keeps the children within bounds and does not permit them to impose upon the workers in the household.

She makes her maids comfortable. Their bedrooms, bathrooms and kitchen are as attractive as she can make them.

She provides if possible a special sitting room with a writing desk, work table, easy chairs and a shelf of interesting books.

She does not refuse permission to have callers outside of working hours and is willing to give extra days off when occasion warrants.

She takes a friendly interest in the affairs of her maids, but never degenerates into a regulator or pryer into those affairs.

In return she expects good work faithfully done and a willingness on the part of her maid to help in an emergency.

Above all, she knows the value of judicious praise and kindly encouragement.

Renovating Furniture.

To remove a dent from a table or cabinet cover it with four thicknesses of paper that has been wet and then set a very hot iron on the surface for only a minute. The steam will raise the compressed wood layers. To remove scratches an excellent furniture polish is made of equal parts of alcohol, olive oil and pure cider vinegar. Faded spots in wood caused by heat or light can be taken out by rubbing with linseed oil or sweet oil mixed with an eighth part of alcohol. Old linen or flannel rags are best to use for this purpose.

ADVERTISED AT LAST

THERE was a merchant in our town
Who was so wondrous wise
He saw his business running down,
Yet would not advertise.

SAID he: "I cannot see the sense
When trade is at its worst
Of multiplying my expense.
I'll wait till trade comes first."

AT last this merchant, ill advised,
Had naught to do but fail,
And then the sheriff advertised
A bankrupt auction sale.

INDIANAPOLIS IS FLABBERGASTED

Taft Cuts Hoosier Capital Off
His Visiting List.

IS HE MIFFED AT BEVERIDGE?

Talk in Washington, Coupled With a General Belief in Indianapolis, Has It That the President's Sudden Determination to Omit Indianapolis From His Coming Western Itinerary Was Based Upon His Disapproval of Senator Beveridge's Recent Convention Utterances—Taft Makes It Clear That He Is Displeased.

Indianapolis, April 7.—News of the sudden determination of President Taft not to visit this city on May 5, after committees had been appointed by the civic organizations to arrange for his entertainment, created a decided sensation, and it was generally believed that Tuesday's state convention was in some way responsible for the change. Yet the Republican leaders could find no reasonable explanation for it on that account. They had been assured and still believe that the president saw and approved the tariff plank that was adopted by the convention and that this party difference would not have acted to prevent his trip here, for the arrangements were made after the platform had been submitted to him.

A possible explanation was offered in the fact that Senator Beveridge in his speech took directly opposite ground from the president in respect to the value of the decreases under the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, and though he did not name the president in that connection, everyone recognized that his utterances were directly opposite to those of the president in his New York speech.

The leaders say that it is hardly possible that Senator Beveridge discussed his speech with the president and that though the latter might have approved the failure to indorse the tariff law, he could hardly have approved of the senator's utterances if he had known what the speech would be. Some of those who commented on the incident think the president has acted hastily. But others think he is justified under the circumstances in cancelling the date.

Former Vice President Fairbanks was greatly surprised when he heard the news from Washington, as he has not been directly advised of the president's change of mind.

MUCH SPECULATION

Washington Is Full of Gossip Regarding the Incident.

Washington, April 7.—President Taft has announced that he has cut Indianapolis out of his western itinerary and will not stop there the first week in May, as he had originally announced. He will visit the other points heretofore named in his itinerary.

Of course there is much speculation as to why the president reached this surprising conclusion the day after the Republican convention, which failed to follow his wishes in the matter of a platform. But nothing was said at the White House from which it could be properly inferred that the president was moved to the determination to remain away from Indianapolis by the action taken at the state convention. The announcement was made by Secretary Carpenter. When asked pointedly if the president had cut out Indianapolis because of the action taken at the convention, the secretary smiled but made no reply.

President Taft has made it clear to callers that he was not pleased by what had happened; also that Senator Beveridge must fight his battle alone. The Republican congressional committee, dominated by reactionaries, will give no assistance to the senator. A number of the Republican regulars expressed the opinion, coupled with the hope, that Senator Beveridge would be defeated.

"He has become the party in Indiana," said one. "He has made himself the platform. The fight is his. He has assumed the responsibility and must stand or fall by the result."

In contradiction of the general talk, this semi-official explanation of the president's decision to stay away from Indianapolis was made: He felt he could not go to Indianapolis and talk freely without seeming to antagonize a Republican senator. Rather than do anything that would seem to be antagonistic to a Republican senator who is a candidate for re-election he decided to stay away from the state at this time. It is understood the president cut out Indianapolis without consulting any of the members of his cabinet, or other persons who are called on for political advice.

Taft's announcement that he would not visit Indianapolis was the political sensation of the day. The president will leave Washington for Buffalo, N. Y., on April 30. On May 1 and 2 he will be in Pittsburgh, in Cincinnati May 3, and in St. Louis on May 4. The Indianapolis visit having been canceled, he will return to Washington from St. Louis.

INTERESTING POSSIBILITY

An Indiana Man May Be Elevated to the United States Supreme Court.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, April 7.—Indiana Republicans and citizens generally are greatly interested in the story that Judge Francis E. Baker, of the United States circuit court, is in line for appointment to the supreme court of the United States to succeed the late Justice David Brewer. Judge Baker is of the famous law firm of Goshen, which, under the firm name of Baker, Miller and Hubbell, included District Attorney C. W. Miller and two distinguished federal judges, and which has been dissolved by reason of the rapid advancement of its members to important stations beyond the ken of Goshen. During the last day or two there has been a persistent report to the effect that Judge Francis E. Baker, of the United States circuit court, by virtue of his geographical location, was regarded as eligible to the supreme bench appointment. It is said that the name of Judge Baker, and that of Judge Willis Vandevanter, also a former Indiana man, are being considered for the supreme court judgeship. Both men are geographically located so as to conform to the traditional requirements that the supreme court members be chosen to represent the whole country. Friends of Judge Baker in Indiana are interesting themselves to further the possibility which has only been hinted at. It would please many Indiana people to see the state represented by such a man as Judge Baker on the highest tribunal in the world.

While it has been understood for some time that Grant county would have but one candidate in the race for the Republican nomination for congress in the Eleventh district, and that the county's one candidate would be John L. Thompson of Gas City, it developed in the last day or two that Frank M. Beard of Marion, former county chairman, might still be reckoned with when the delegates are made for the congressional convention, which is set for April 14. Mr. Beard has been regarded as out of running for some time past, but he is in a position to get back into the running. The story is that Mr. Beard does not hope or expect to take the nomination himself, but that he is the man around whom the forces are to be gathered for another and larger political figure. In other words, the background force is none other than Major George W. Steele, formerly for sixteen years the Eleventh district congressman. It is known that Major Steele, who is now governor of the National Military Home at Marion, has been urged frequently this year to step forward, take the nomination for congress, and redeem the district from the Democrats, as he has done in the past, when the Democrats were largely in the majority. It is known also that the old time war horse has intimated that he would accept the nomination if it were to be handed to him on a decorated plate.

If F. M. Beard re-enters the fight, or if anti-Thompson delegates are attempted to be made in Grant county, will be notice to Eleventh district Republicans, in effect, that Major Steele is girding on his armor anew, and that the real fight is to be for Steele's re-nomination after four years of Frederick Landis and four years of Democratic representation at Washington. It is understood that an earnest fight will be made against John L. Thompson in parts of Grant county, especially in the Soldier's Home precincts, and the Steele movement already has shown itself in the form of an effort to choose E. P. Kling's delegates for him, in Miami county. It is predicted that a Steele revival would be strong in Cass county and in Wabash. The return of Major Steele, old in years, but vigorous and militant as in the years of his splendid prime, would give a romantic and sentimental touch to the peculiar and original politics of the turbulent Eleventh district. John L. Thompson's friends, who emphasize the loyalty shown by Mr. Thompson to the Steele cause, and to the lasting and strong friendship between Steele and Thompson, assert that Major Steele and his friends cannot oppose the Gas City man for the congressional nomination.

Since Finley P. Mount has been nominated for attorney general by the Republicans, there has been less talk of Irvin C. Diggins of Crawfordsville, for congress in the Ninth district. Mr. Mount comes from Crawfordsville, and it is being urged by some Republicans that Montgomery county has her share and will not ask for district honors this year. Efforts to bring out M. W. Pershing, the veteran editor, of Tipton, have not succeeded. Mr. Pershing has told his friends that he will not run for congress. Tipton county already has a candidate in the person of Edward Daniels of Tipton, but there is some opposition against him in his own county, and this opposition has urged Mr. Pershing to go after the congressional prize. The E. E. Neal organization appears to be spreading its forces steadily in several counties of the Ninth. Mr. Neal is Hamilton county's candidate, and Hamilton county Republicans are saying that the nomination ought to go to Hamilton this year. Being unitedly behind Mr. Neal, they ask the other counties to give the county long-deferred recognition, and promise that Mr. Neal will harmonize Republicans and win at the polls. Judge B. F. Harness of Kokomo is making much the same claim for Howard county, and is making an active canvass of the district. Judge Harness' friends say he is making good progress.

BRUTAL MURDER AT FARM HOUSE

Murderer Sought to Destroy Evidences of Crime.

INDIANA WOMAN FOULY SLAIN

Mrs. Frank Allison While Alone in Her Home Near Cambridge City, Was Killed by an Unknown Man, Who Then Set Fire to the House in an Effort to Cover Up Trace of His Brutal Deed—Murdered Woman's Husband Was Working in a Field a Half Mile Distant.

Cambridge City, Ind., April 7.—Mrs.
Frank Allison, aged thirty-eight, wife of Frank Allison, tenant on a farm
one and a half miles south of Cambridge City, was murdered by an unidentified man, who then set fire to the house in an effort to conceal his crime.

Mrs. Allison was home alone when she was struck over the head with a blunt instrument. Her husband and a farm employe were at work in a field a half-mile from the farmhouse and the woman's two small sons were at school when the tragedy occurred.
While footprints leading toward the road in front of the house bear evidence that the woman's assailant ran toward this city after committing the crime, none has been found who saw anyone near the Allison home either directly before or after flames were seen issuing from the one-story frame house.

A party of young people in an automobile in the outskirts of this city were the first to discover the Allison house on fire, and they hurried to the farm, reaching there a moment before the woman's husband and his farm employe reached the place. The house was in flames, and when Allison, unmindful of his own danger, started to rush into the living-room of his home in the hope of saving some of his household furnishings, he stumbled over the dead body of his wife in the doorway.

With the assistance of other men
he carried the body to a place of safety, where it was found the woman's skull had been crushed in and that she had been otherwise wounded. By this time the flames had gained such headway that the men found it impossible to save the house.

Hundreds of people, attracted by the flames and the clanging of the farm bell, soon reached the scene and while many assisted in saving the barn and nearby outbuildings from being destroyed by fire, others formed a searching party in the hope of capturing the woman's assailant.

The sheriff's office at Richmond was notified hurriedly and officers and bloodhounds hurried to the scene in a touring car. While the motive of the murderer is thought to have been robbery, the police believe the woman's assailant maltreated his victim before inflicting the fatal blow.

COLD WATER FOLKS

Are Having Their State Convention at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, April 7.—The Indiana state prohibition convention is in session at Tomlinson hall, a crowd of several hundred being in the hall for the convention, which consists of 1,160 delegates. About half of them remained at home, but there is a sufficient number present to make a good showing. State Chairman Lough called the convention to order and prayer was offered by the Rev. W. V. Harrell of Chrisney. A. B. Kirkpatrick of Kokomo was selected as temporary chairman and made the keynote speech.

He expounded the doctrine of the party
for an hour.

District meetings were held at the statehouse yesterday afternoon to select members of committees and also to make congressional nominations for the various districts. Last night a mass meeting was held at Tomlinson hall, addressed by Robert H. Patton of Illinois.

This forenoon there was more oratory, reports of committees and the adoption of a platform. Nominations are being made at this afternoon's session. A workers' conference will be held at the Y. M. C. A. after adjournment of the convention.

NEGROES LYNCH TWO OF THEIR OWN RACE

Alleged Murderers Taken From An Arkansas Constable.

Memphis, Tenn., April 7.—While in the hands of Constable Mallory of Keo, Ark., Frank Pride, aged fifty, and Laura Mitchell, aged forty, negroes, charged with double murder, were seized and shot to death by a mob of blacks and then strung up side by side, where the bodies were discovered. The mob overpowered the constable on the Bert Sim farm, four miles north of here, where the officer and his prisoners took refuge from a storm. The double murder and lynching has stirred Lone Oak county. The lynching is said to be the only one in which the mob was composed entirely of blacks.

The victims had just been bound over to await the action of the grand jury on charges following the discovery of the body of Wiley Mitchell, husband of the woman. Mitchell's brains had been knocked out with a club.
Pride's wife is missing and is believed to have been murdered and buried.

WOUND IT UP

The Last of the Ohio Bridge Trust Cases Disposed Of.

Toledo, O., April 7.—After pleading guilty to violation of the Valentine anti-trust law by being engaged in an unlawful combination for the restraint of trade, J. J. Swigert, the last of the bridge trust agents indicted about three years ago, was fined $250 and costs by Judge Johnson. Swigert is more than seventy years old and was a representative of the Massillon Bridge company at the time he was indicted.

Ordered Out the Guard.

Austin, Tex., April 7.—Governor Campbell has ordered a detachment of state rangers to Centerville to prevent further disorder growing out of the killing of Frank Bates, sr., the wounding and attempted lynching of his son, Dolly Bates, and the fatal wounding of Deputy Sheriff J. S. St. John.

A Three-Time Deserter.

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 7.—The police have arrested Edward Thomas Joseph Baughman, who has deserted from the United States navy three times. He is now in jail awaiting transportation back to a training ship.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me.

"I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains.

"A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Women's pains are relieved or prevented and women's strength is quickly restored, by Cardui, the woman's tonic. You yourself know best if you need it, or not.

If you do need it, do not delay, but commence to use it at once. Every day of delay, only lets you slide further down the hill.

Don't wait, then, but begin to take Cardui today, for its use, no matter how prolonged, cannot harm you and will surely do you good.

DISASTROUS FIRE.

Quite an excitement was created in our little town on last Thursday when near the noon hour it was discovered that the school house was burning. There being no chance whatever to fight the fire, it was soon a heap of brick and coals. Mr. John Peek's house which stood just across the street was soon afire. The people tried hard to save it but to no avail, it was soon also a mass of coals, but most of the furniture was saved. The wind being toward the east, it was discovered that Robt. D'Vault's house was afire but by hard work the flames were extinguished and at the same time a barn full of hay on the lot where Charles Wellman lives was discovered to be burning but was finally extinguished by hard work. At one time at least six dwellings were on fire, besides numerous small buildings. S. P. Wineinger's house being the closest it was burning numerous times.

The school house was a large two story, four room frame building with modern improvements on the inside. At the time of the fire, school was going on in three of the rooms, it being the last day for the intermediate and primary rooms. Quite a number of children were present beside the regular scholars, but all escaped uninjured. They saved most of their books and the large school library. Prof. Robertson of the high school had about two more weeks of school. Trustee Loudon rented the Red Men's hall for him to complete the term. We understand the school building was insured for $1700 but still it will be a great loss and a large expense to our township. Mr. Peek carried no insurance. Robt. DeVault was damaged about $150 which is covered by insurance. Telephone messages were sent to Kurtz and surrounding country for help. They all responded and have the thanks of our township for their help. No one was seriously hurt. Paul Richards was burned on the face and neck slightly, and Horace Payne received a scorched face. This is the worst fire that ever occurred in our little village and it looked for awhile as though the whole town would be wiped out. It is supposed that the fire originated by sparrows carrying straw and trash around the flues. Trustee Loudon informs us that he will rebuild with a fine modern structure. We do not know now whether Mr. Peek will rebuild or not but hope that he will. He wants to thank the people for their assistance in helping save what property they did. He was not at home at the time of the fire.

AN UNKIND FATE PURSUES TEDDY

Center of Storm Ever Since He Left Jungle.

AND IT IS GROWING WORSE

The Recent Vatican Incident Is Hardly a Circumstance Compared With the Row That a Resultant Incident Has Created in the Camp of the Methodists in Rome, the Colonel's Ire Having Been Aroused by an Ill-Considered Placard Posted by the Head of the Methodist Mission.

Rome, April 6.—It seems unfortunate that Colonel Roosevelt, who is taking a holiday as a private citizen, should have been apparently condemned by an unkind fate to be a storm center from the moment he came in touch with civilization after emerging from the peaceful security of the African jungle. Leaving Egypt with the Nationalists stirred to the danger point by his well-meant exhortations, he no sooner set foot in Naples than trouble began 150 miles away in Rome.

Since Sunday night, when his first act on reaching his hotel was to announce his rupture with the vatican, that trouble has been steadily growing. While its innocent cause yesterday took a short respite from his strenuous holiday in the shape of a little sightseeing, which was unmarred save by a shudder at the sight of the vatican gardens, the storm seethed and surged all over Rome. There were suppressed rumblings at the vatican, slight quakes disturbed the calm in the neighborhood of the American college, a cloud hung over the embassy, the reception today in honor of Roosevelt has been abandoned in alarm, and a perfect tornado raged in the Methodist center.

The walls of Rome were posted with the following bill: "Papal intolerance has found a worthy response in the Protestant conscience of Theodore Roosevelt, who rejected the conditions imposed as to a reception at the vatican. A solemn warning to those who cherish the delusion that the spirit of the papacy has changed."

Roosevelt's anger with the Methodists after seeing Rev. Mr. Tipple's communication was greater perhaps than with the vatican. This appears not only in his pronouncement as cable, but was visible in his expression, audible in his voice, and expressed in his action when he at once cancelled the reception at the embassy, which, it was thought, was to be general for Americans in Rome, but was really intended to be especially for the members of the Methodist mission. At the Methodist institution it is no exaggeration to say that something like a panic prevails. Mr. Tipple's statements are thrown overboard and probably Mr. Tipple will follow.

The king has told several persons that he is greatly attracted by Roosevelt's vivid personality and impetuous vitality. He seems to enjoy everything, even small jokes, in quite a boyish manner. Nevertheless, despite the royal favor, there are expressions in many quarters that Roosevelt's visit has already produced enough sensations and his departure will be viewed with relief.

The principal Berlin Catholic newspapers bitterly assailed Roosevelt and brand his correspondence with the vatican as "arrogant, insolent, tactless in the highest degree and lacking in respect to the head of the great church."

An Expert's Opinion Of Skin Diseases.

A prominent national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin diseases, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. A. J. Pellens will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet that explains in simple language all about skin diseases and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

RIOT AT OPTION POLLING PLACE

An Illinois Town the Scene of Violence.

DANVILLE A STORM CENTER

Clashes Between the "Wet" and "Dry" Factions During Tuesday's Option Elections at Uncle Joe Cannon's Home Town Resulted in the Wounding of Six Men—Evangelist Billy Sunday Wanted the Militia Called Out but Calmer Counsel Prevailed and the Town Was Not Placed Under Guard.

Danville, Ill., April 6.—At the polls Tuesday in this city, Speaker Cannon's home, six men were wounded during the local option election, and for a time matters were of a such a threatening nature that, believing there would be certain bloodshed between the "wet" and "dry" factions, Evangelist Billy Sunday, who had been holding a series of revivals here, wired Governor Deneen, his close friend, requesting him to order out the local company of militia. This request was later countermanded, but not until County Judge Allen, after a conference with the clergy, also wired for assistance. The "wets" carried the city.

The wounded were: S. Murray Clark, ex-county judge, bruised about the face; Newt Shields, contractor, badly bruised and clothing stripped from body; Hiram Watson, real estate dealer; Marshal Wilson, Frank Ferdis and Earl Spickard. The rioting centered around Grape Crook precinct. When Judge Clark, armed with credentials as a Prohibition challenger, attempted to enter the polling place, he was knocked down by Oscar Cravans, agent for the Terre Haute Brewing company, and thrown outside the lines.

Hearing of the battle, Sheriff Helmick swore in fifty deputies and, loading them into automobiles, hurried them to the scene. Before the deputations arrived another riot started when Newt Shields attempted to photograph a voter entering the polls. Shields's clothing was torn from his body. His camera was smashed.

GO BACK TO BARS

A Number of Illinois Cities Reverse Former "Dry" Vote.

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—It was the wet's day Tuesday in Illinois. Many important cities which have been controlled by the dries went back again into the liquor column. Statements made by officials of the liquor element here claim that the state in Tuesday's election went 80 per cent wet as against 80 per cent dry last year. This probably is an excessive claim, but the wets made great inroads into the ranks of their opponents.

Bloomington registered a decisive victory for the liquor forces, the majority there in their favor being three times that of the previous election.

Rockford went for the saloon element after having been dry two years; Decatur was wrested from the dries by 500 majority, reversing a dry majority of 102 two years ago; Mattoon was reclaimed by the wets; Springfield voted for saloons by a majority of 1,315, a wet loss of 500 from the result two years ago. Galesburg went dry, but the majority was less by one-half than it was at the previous election. Belvidere, which was dry, went into the liquor column. Rock Island and Moline are wet by smaller majorities; Elgin remains wet, while Batavia and Geneva got off the water wagon. Pontiac declared in favor of bars after having kept without them for two years.

Chicago Goes Democratic.

Chicago, April 6.—Democrats carried the day in the aldermanic contests and will have a majority in the new council. The result is taken as a repudiation of the Busse city administration.

Slump in the "Wet" Vote.

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—Springfield voted Tuesday to retain saloons by 1,247 majority. Springfield voted wet two years ago by 1,800.

JAMES M. COX

Ohio Congressman Whose Little Joker Helped Out Home Firm.

TRYING TO GET BACK

How the House Came to Bite Its Thumb at Mr. Cox of Ohio.

Washington, April 6.—The postoffice appropriation bill recently passed by the house contained a provision prohibiting the department from printing return addresses of business firms on envelopes ordered in lots of 1,000 or more. When this provision came up on the floor, Representative Cox of Ohio, a Democrat, offered an amendment providing that this prohibition should not apply to "existing contracts." That sounded all right and almost everybody voted for it.

Now it turns out that there is only one "existing contract," and that is between the postoffice department and a firm in Dayton, O., Mr. Cox's home town—which prints all the return addresses ordered by business firms through the postoffice throughout the country. That contract does not expire until the end of the fiscal year 1911, at the same time that the effect of the original provision in the postoffice appropriation bill just passed would expire.

The postoffice committee bit its thumb at Mr. Cox and gave a hearing on the Touvelle bill, which is intended to prohibit the postoffice department from mixing up in the printing business at all.

MAY LEAD TO WAR IN SOUTH AMERICA

War Clouds Rapidly Gathering On Western Coast.

Washington, April 6.—On the west coast of South America, where political conditions are usually threatening, war clouds are gathering rapidly. In Guayaquil, Ecuador, a mob assaulted the Peruvian consul and stoned the consulate building. When news of this incident reached Lima the Peruvian people retaliated by stoning the legation of Ecuador in Lima. The Peruvian legation in Quito was also mobbed. The Peruvian consul at Guayaquil has sought asylum temporarily in the American consulate. The relations between Peru and other countries on the west coast of South America have been strained for several months. Peru and Chile have been at odds for a long time over the Tacna-Arica dispute. Another boundary difficulty also has been pending between Peru and Ecuador. The latter dispute is now in the hands of the king of Spain for arbitration.

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

100,000 in 1910

We want that many regular subscribers to our paper. In 1909 we had a daily circulation of 90,246, therefore, we need only 9,754 new readers to reach the mark.

THE INDIANAPOLIS NEWS

The circulation of The Indianapolis News is unique in two particulars. The paper is delivered directly into the homes of more than 94 per cent. of its subscribers; and the circulation, per capita of the population of the city in which it is printed is greater than that of any other paper in the country.

The Indianapolis News, established in 1869, was the first high class two-cent evening paper in the west. It now publishes six regular editions, of from sixteen to twenty-eight pages daily; has the Associated Press and United Press services; 700 special correspondents, covering the news of the state and country; a modern art equipment, and a large and capable editorial staff. Its mechanical equipment, complete in every way, includes twenty-two linotype machines, two sextuples and two double-deck quintuple color presses, with a total output of 120,000 twelve page papers per hour.

THERE'S A REASON!

In twelve years The News doubled its circulation; there must be a reason for it, and that reason is given in a few words: It's the leading newspaper in Indiana. It's the biggest and best. It's independent. It's clean and instructive.

If you are not a reader, give your order to our agent in your town, he will deliver it to your home, office, work-shop or store.

STATE NEWS.

No Clew to Dynamiters.

The police yet have no clew to the identity of the persons who exploded a heavy charge of dynamite, or other high explosive in the plant of the Pan-American Bridge Company Tuesday, and damaged the plant to the extent of about $8,000. The police had what was thought to be a promising clew and were following it, but information from the chief of police at Peoria, Ill., resulted in them abandoning it and they are now looking elsewhere for the guilty persons.

The company has a large force of men at work making repairs and hopes to have them made to such an extent that the plant can be operated as formerly by the end of the week. In the meantime a close watch will be kept after nightfall to see that other depredations are not perpetrated. The officials still decline to make a statement as to the cause of the explosion, but are giving the police all the assistance they can.

Jilted Lover Drinks Acid.

Standing in front of his fiancée at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, James Hawk, age thirty, a gardener, swallowed carbonic acid and is now lying at the point of death at Brazil.

Mrs. Gertrude Harris Johnson, age twenty-five, a widow, and the mother of three children, was to have been married to Hawk Wednesday, and the bridegroom-elect had been working for weeks completing a new home west of the city. Hawk came there yesterday and Mrs. Johnson told him she could not be his wife. Heartbroken Hawk snatched a vial of poison from his pocket and swallowed the contents.

To Curb High Speed.

High speed by traction cars passing through Columbus is soon to be a thing of the past as the city council has instructed City Attorney C. B. Cooper to prepare an ordinance making it unlawful for interurban cars to run at a greater speed than eight miles an hour through the city. The Indianapolis, Columbus & Southern Traction Company has about one and one-half miles of track in the city and except in the business section of the city the cars run at a high rate of speed. The council intends to reduce this speed from the time the city is entered until the car leaves.

Horse Eats Rope Halter.

A. L. Anderson, of Hartsville, Bartholomew county, owns a horse that eats rope. The horse was hitched by a rope halter and the halter disappeared. Other rope about the barn went the same way, and finally the animal was watched. It passed up corn and oats to eat rope. Even twine strings were eagerly devoured by the animal. A veterinary surgeon was called in to examine the horse, but he gave the case up as one that baffled his skill.

Block Coal Field to Act Formally.

The miners of the block coal field, in annual convention, have arranged to meet the operators in joint session today. They have framed their demands, but they will be of such character, it is believed, as will not interfere with a speedy and satisfactory settlement. When the operators of this district agreed to granting a 5 cent increase in the price of mining and a 5.55 per cent. increase in the price of wages of other labor about the mine a settlement was practically effected.

Sheep Sheared at Crawfordsville.

Some farmers have already sheared their sheep. On account of the exceptionally warm weather that prevailed during March, the wool season will open unusually early. Usually sheep shearing does not begin until the latter part of April. Buyers have not yet set the price of wool. If cold weather prevails the next two or three weeks, little shearing will be done.

RAILROAD NOTES.

John Kerr, U. S. Express messenger on one of the through runs between St. Louis and Parkersburg, W. Va., was in the city Tuesday.

Brotherhood officials say that the voluntary increase made on the part of railroads will not alter the plan of the trainmen and conductors who have made demands for larger increase. The trainmen say they will take for the present the amount offered as an installment of the amount asked for, but the trainmen and conductors will stand firm for the Baltimore & Ohio schedule.

All of the roads in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio are more or less affected by the strike of the coal miners in the three states named above, but the operators and the railroad officials are of the opinion the cessation of business will not be of long duration, as there are now no serious questions to adjust between the miners and the officials of the mines. The railroads have nothing to do with the matter at present, but will favor the resumption of work as soon as practicable.

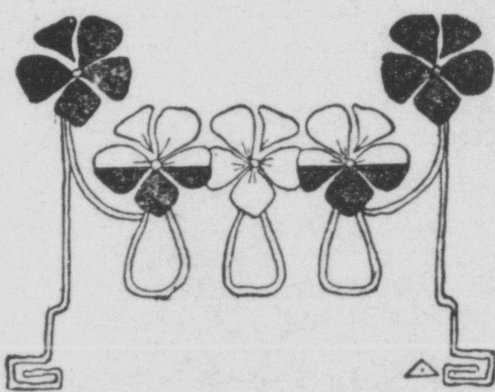

FOR THE HOSTESS.

Suggestions For Decorating the Covers of Guest Books.

As a little addition to a well furnished guest room there is a book in which each visitor writes his or her name and the date of the visit. It is a pretty idea, and when decorated with designs or colors that harmonize with the room this booklet gives an air of completeness which is very gratifying to a guest.

Suggestions are here offered for decorating the covers of guest books. Paints or dyes will be found to give satisfactory color results, and the designs you will trace from the drawings.

If you decide to try the circular design transfer the drawing by means of carbon paper to the front cover of a plain lined blank book. Any shade of paint looks well. Of course it is best when it reflects the color scheme of the room. The conventional design is always in good taste. The letters look well in the same color or in black ink.

Yellow on gray linen or blue on tan is a charming combination. Black is always permissible for outlining or backgrounds.

A daisy design is very effective in white and pale green on any dark background—brown, for instance. It is simple and can be dashed off in a few minutes.

Pansies for thoughts of your guest furnish another form of easy decoration. In so many colors does this saucy flower come that it offers endless possibilities.

There are the yellow and white combinations for your yellow room and all shades of purple for the lavender guest room. Blue, too, can be made to color the petals, and brown and reds are also ready for your use.

Paint the stems with pale green. In spring or summer a guest book of this design is irresistible beside a bowl of the fragrant flowers.

An ingenious worker can make a detachable cover or slip of any material for her guest book and vary the cover with the furnishing of the room at different seasons. Embroidery might be a happy medium if time be one of your assets.

"There is a special delight in writing my name in a private register," said one guest the other day. Yes; you will agree with her when you see the pleased recognition of your effort to attend to the details of the guest room of your home.
